Been trying to find the words. Thank you for letting me love you kara,for sharing part of your life with me,for making me see my faults and work on bettering myself,for making me happy and making my grandma smile...i pray yall are together now she loved you so much and i hope that boomer is there too,I've thought of you everyday since i found out,I wish i would have came seen you, wish i had been there for you. Cause i believe you would still be here,i love you very much kara,wish I would have told you this when you were here,im sorry i couldn't be the man you deserved,to your parents bobbi , james & Diane, i am so sorry,i cant even imagine the pain yall are in,she loved yall very much as y'all know,thank you for raising such an amazing woman,i pray your at peace kara,ill never forget you. “ I met Kara the day she was born. Her mom Bobbi and I gave birth on the same day to two beautiful girls. We felt a connection and stayed in touch through the years. Sarah and Kara stayed in touch as well as they got older.

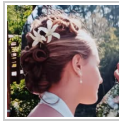

We took the girls to swimming lessons when they were 6 months old. They were so cute! We got their pictures taken many times together. It was fun to watch them grow.

They moved to NC, but they still came to visit once in a while (thank you, Bobbi).

I didn't know Kara as an adult as she lived in NC and we live in Mass. I do know she was a warm, kind, thoughtful person, and know she is so missed by so many. I hope she is smiling down on us from heaven. We love you! RIP

“ I first knew Kara when she was in kindergarten with my daughter, Amanda, at Rainbow Mountain Children's School. They were the only 2 girls in the small class. Our families became friends and Kara and Amanda enjoyed several sweet play times together. Kara was cute, smart and fun to be around. Her life path took her through many different realms for which I was not around, but kept in touch with Bobbi throughout. I heard that Kara worked at different jobs, had become very creative with her beautiful bead work, and had some hard challenges to deal with. Amidst the struggles, she was a beautiful young woman who enjoyed many aspects of her life. My heart goes out to Bobbi and Jim. Losing a child seems so unfair. She had so much more life ahead of her. My hope is that her soul is in a joyful, peaceful place now surrounded by divine light and love. May you find comfort in the memory of Kara, and know that many prayers are coming your way.

We moved here from Massachusetts in 1990 and found the best friends from Rainbow Mountain Children's School 🥰💕 Patty - you, Amanda, Aliza and Andrea were such sweetness in our early years settling in to Asheville. With all the many transitions I have been through and my daughter has struggled with - you have been a steadfast unconditional caring friend who I deeply cherish. Know that your hopes for my daughter's soul are deeply appreciated and I share those prayers.

“ Such a loss! I remember Kara as a baby, child (Iwas her counselor at the Eldridge School in Braintree, Ma.) and as a teenager. A most beautiful girl!. My sincere condolences to Jim, Bobbie and all who knew and loved her. Laura and I were her Godparents. I can still remember her Baptism in the Wollaston Nazarene Church , Quincy , Mass..

May her memory be eternal.
