“ Scottie it's hard to believe that you are gone!! I know, without a doubt your cousin Heather welcomed you into heaven!! She probably had the biggest smile and hug for you when she greeted you as you always carried that smile every time for your family!! Never did I think our family would ever have to endure another tragedy!! You always were so kind, compassionate, and caring!! Even though we never got to see you much when we did you always made sure you greeted us with a hug, a big smile, and a.... I love you guys!! My heart breaks for your mom, Alyssa and your children. I know God will help them, comforting them, and guiding them every step of the way with his comfort, peace, and love as he does for me everyday!! Just like my Heather you were taken to soon...but know you will truly never be forgotten!!

My love Always!! Aunt Lisa

“ Oh Scottie you were taken way too soon. The first time I laid eyes on you was when I babysat you for the night as a last minute thing "long story" You were so small and I had nothing for you to sleep in but an oval laundry basket that I fixed with a pillow and blankets and put you next to my bed. You slept so good. God knows you had some rough periods in your life and now you were getting a wonderful life with Alyssa and Oliver. Distance has seperated us through the years but you will always have a spot in my heart. So proud of the man you have become and the life you had. May you have Eternal Peace which you more than deserve. Love you always cuz.

“ So many wonderful memories of and with you growing up. Easter egg hunts and trick or treating at my Mom's house, how he loved his Aunt Kathy and how she adored her Scottie. Oh, and the fun family ghost stories at Grammy's house.

I am proud of the man you became and the beautiful family you built with a wonderful wife and an amazingly handsome son. Your life was full of trials and tribulations, but you overcame so much and always remained positive and happy. Your light will live on through all the lives that you touched and the people you loved and love you. May your flight to Heaven to meet those on the other side be joyful and speedy carried on the wings of Gods most special angels.
